Seven good reasons for FAIRTRADE and what we guarantee with that ...

- By carrying the FAIRTRADE seal, our products guarantee fair prices for the peasant-farmer families, better working conditions for paid workers to enable a self-determined future. The producer groups invest the additional FAIRTRADE premiums into urgently required services, such as, education, health or environmental projects. Since 2013 the producer groups in the FAIRTRADE net-work are 50% equal partners and shareholders of FAIRTRADE INTERNATIONAL. They decide for themselves which direction FAIRTRADE is developing. No other social certification seal offers anything similar.
- By carrying the FAIRTRADE seal, our products guarantee the strict adherence to the ban on child and forced labour.
- By carrying the FAIRTRADE seal, our products guarantee fair working conditions and safety measures as a crucial part of a fair production process. Therefore the FAIRTRADE system specifically promotes environmentally friendly growing methods and hence protection humanity for potential harm that could be caused by conventional agriculture. Payment of organic premiums, the ban on genetically modified seed stocks, no pesticides, waste management and the protection of natural waters together form the basis of the FAIRTRADE environmental standards.
- By carrying the FAIRTRADE seal, our products guarantee the strengthening of smallholder structures as an important contribution to the climate protection.

Who is behind all this quality ...

The Bertagnoli family has its roots in agriculture in Italy and Austria and was involved over generations in the milling and hulling business, adding value to and marketing agricultural products. Lemberona's current director, Elmira Bertagnoli, an Austro-Uzbek, has master-minded the company's development and expansion to a globally acting organic and FAIRTRADE company. Through her very own roots and understanding of cultures and belonging to the ethnic minority of the Crimean Tatars, she brings a great deal of sensitivity for the needs and concerns of the organic small farmers and their living conditions. It is the application of this family fair principle with our producers that distinguishes Lemberona from others and makes our products so valuable.

„Innovation to us means: Through steady and close contact to our producer partners, many new ideas are born and fair products created as well as resource-saving innovations in production and processing. Because he who stops and stands still cannot develop further.“

Green Level - what differentiates us from others ...

We are using only real, GMO-free and clean foods. No preservatives, additives, processing aid oils, yeast, lecithin or salt.

Our packages are mostly made of vegan film, nitrogen flushed for quality assurance and re-sealable. Laser sorting before packaging assures that you only find in our products what is stated on the ingredients label and nothing else. For FAIRTRADE mixes and blends we aim for the highest possible share of FAIRTRADE in our products, regardless of the cost factor of individual ingredients.

„By the way, our production facility in Austria is certified gluten-free“

Certified & rewarded ...

As a matter of course we have certified our high quality and hygiene standards by third-party according to IFS (International Food Standard), HACCP/GMP, Austria Bio Garantie, Flo-Cert as well as ISO 9000.

Lemberona are one of a few Austrian Companies to be certified Kosher by the Chief Rabbi of the Jewish Community in Vienna, Paul Chaim Eisenberg and certified gluten-free by the Austrian Coeliac Society.

„But our biggest reward are our happy and satisfied customers and the fact that we have no complaints.“
